

Moses – leaders notes

Moses is one of the big characters in the Bible, and someone that prisoners often ask about and confuse with other big characters. This series of studies aims to explore Moses himself, and the story of the Exodus from Egypt. The Exodus took place around 1400 years before the birth of Jesus. Moses was a murderer on the run (Ex 2:12 & 15) and I have tried to use that fact in the first study to encourage prisoners that God can use anyone to do his work. It is worth reminding the group of Moses' dubious early career as you continue through the studies, so that they don't start to think that you have to be special or good for God to be interested in you.

Structure of the studies.

These studies are designed for a mixed group of Christians and seekers. Be aware that you may have to pause sometimes to re-explain the gospel.

There are a lot of questions in each study, but you will notice that several of them are simple comprehension questions and should not take more than a couple of minutes. We recommend that you do the study yourself before running it with prisoners, so that you can see which questions are likely to take up more time, and have a good understanding of the answers, and where the study is going.

Each study is designed to last for about 90 minutes. Guidance for timings are given, which should help you to see when to keep discussion brief and when to go a bit deeper! If you get diverted, and don't finish the first set of questions, make sure you study at least one application question before you close. We would suggest that you take a 10 minute break around half-way. If you only have an hour, just do the starred * questions, with no break. Each study is written out twice, once for leaders (with a guide to answers) and once for participants.

The studies are laid out in 2 sections:

What does the passage say and mean?

Please don't be put off by the number of questions in a study! These studies contain some comprehension questions – it is important that we understand what the passage literally says. These questions can be taken fairly quickly. Try not to go too deep with them - they just aim to set the background. There are also some deeper questions to help the group to think, and unpack the meaning of the passage. There are some interactive questions, to keep people who have short attention spans engaged!

SELF-DIRECTED – SDL – 3 questions that need to be prepared. Write them on flip-chart paper, spaced out so that there is room to write the answer. Prepare enough flip-chart sheets for the group to work in pairs, and provide enough marker pens for them to write their answers. When they are finished, download the answers as a group, with a leader co-ordinating the discussion.

STICKERS – Write the question on the top of a flip-chart. Give the group stickers or post-it's and ask them to write the answer to the question on their sticker. Give them biro's to do this. Ask them to stick their stickers on the flip-chart. When they are finished, the leader reads out the answers, and then explains the right answer to the group.

SHOUT-OUT – Write the question on the flip-chart and let the group shout out their answers. Write the answers down as they give them.

How can I live according to these truths in my life?

Each study ends with some application questions. These application questions are very important, but should not be tackled before understanding what the Bible says – we cannot apply the Bible to our lives if we have not read and understood it!

Bibliography

Cole A (1973) Tyndale Old Testament Commentaries, Exodus, Leicester: Inter Varsity Press

Grudem W (2000) Systematic Theology, An Introduction to Biblical Doctrine, Nottingham: Inter Varsity Press

Roberts V (2003) God's Big Picture, Tracing the storyline of the Bible, Leicester: Inter Varsity Press

Wright C (1998) New International Biblical Commentary, Deuteronomy, Peabody: Hendrickson Publishers